

Social Distancing and Location
Data during peak COVID years

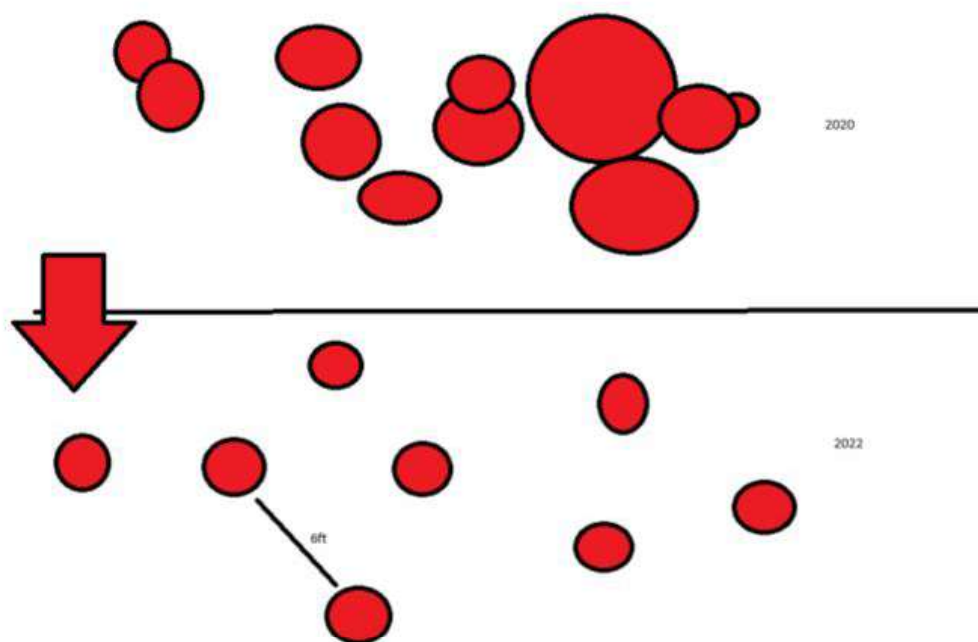

(user clicks on a region/changes scale)

(technology permitting, the "solid red circles" would actually be clusters Of individual "humans"):

(As the years are proximate to 2021 they become more like the bottom image, and as they move away from the peak they become more like the top)